SPECULATION IS GROWING ACTIVE

Transaction in Securities of United States Steel to Realize Cash.

MARKET IS RESPONSIVE ONE

Bankers Continue to Frown Upon Speculative Activity for the Present.

NEW YORK, November 8.—There was a more pronounced stirring of speculative activity in the stock market to-day than at any period since the recent period of disturbance set in. The manifest pressure to convert into ready resources some very large holdings of the United States Steel sinking fund bonds and the fact that the transfer of the control of the Tennessee Coal and fron Company to the United States Steel Corporation had made large holdings of these bonds available to the most prominent of the former speculative operators, gave plausibility to the supposition as to the identity of the principal buying. The market was found responsive to these dealings and reflected the same condition of scarcity of offerings which has been the negative evidence of returning confidence for several days past. The banks continue their attitude of disfavor towards large speculative operations. But the manifest signs of a resumption of operations on margin on a considerable scale indicated that this obstacle had been overcome in some manner. The advance in the official discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany was practically ignored. It had been clearly foreseen and the continued large engagements of gold for Import detracted from its effect. Bonds were tregular. Total sales, par value, $4.668,000. United States honds were unchanged on call. Total sales to-day, 488,300 shares. NEW YORK, November 8 .- Money on Ci

NEW YORK, November 8.—The dry goods market is very quiet and financial complications are hampering and restricting trade a great deal. Jobbers are receiving many small orders from different parts of the country for all kinds of goods for immediate shipment. The cotton yarn market is somewhat steadier as a consequence of an announcement of curtailment, but trading is very limited. Raw wool is lower for some qualities. Buyers are coming into the market preparing for the carpet openings, which take place next week.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

accommodating the country to the changed financial conditions, and this, too, with strikingly little friction. At the same time the wholesale and job-hing trade has quieted down very perceptibly, and the disposition in inbing trade has quieted down very perceptibly, and the disposition in industrial lines has been to curtail production wherever possible. There is, in fact, a rather more optimistic tone prevailing this week than last, the outgrowth of the better feeling at the East, the large arrivals of gold from Europe and the idea that basic conditions, both as regards the purchasing power of the people and the absence of large stocka are better than in some praceding years of stress. From two sections—the Northwest and the South—compisints are numerous that the absence of actual cash prevents the movement of wheat and cotton to market; but the country-wide issuance of bank and corporation checks in small denominations has eased the currency situation greatly. Collections are rather slower, but there has been a slight easing in the premium for actual turrency at the East.

before him yesterday. He issued a Tnanksgiving proclamation, calling upon the people of the State to observe Thursday, November 28th, the date fixed by the President. Here are several sentences taken from the Governor's, proclamation:

"During the past year Virginia has been preserved from pestilence and famine. She has excaped calamities, and her people have been bleased with abundant prosperity. In conformity with the proclamation of the President of the United States, I invite the people to especially set apart the day afore named to humbly and reverently invoke Almighty God for a continuance of His great mercies and goodness."

A number of distinguished callers were with the Governor from time to time during the day. Among them were Major James D. Patton and Hon. James Alston Cabell. Governor Swanson is being besieged with letters and Library Gets Medal.

The Librarian of the Virginia State Library has received a letter from the secretary of the jury of awards for the Jamestown Exposition, notifying him that a diploma and gold medal has been awarded to the exhibit made by the State Library. This is a most gratifying recognition of the merits of the exhibit on the part of those competent to judge.

The regular routine of the Library has now for more than a year been greatly interfered with by the work of collecting, installing and caring for this exhibit; but the sacrifices made should be looked upon with equanimity, for the institution has been advertised not only as a repository of rare treasures, but also as an institution capable of bringing these to the attention of students.

The Library Board will hold a regular meeting in the office of Dr. Mc. Il waine, in the Library Building, tonight. Most of the work to be discipled in the court will go into containing the c
